

The TimberWolf

TIMBERWOLVES REFOCUS & CRUSH KITCHENER!

The Timber Wolves rebounded from a tough loss on Saturday with a total team effort against Kitchener on Sunday. With Ben Hagen still sidelined, Owen Way was moved up to centre and quickly made his presence felt. Just 19 seconds into the game, #19 netted the Wolves first goal with the assist going to Noah Zettler. With the Timber Wolves then on the PK, Blake Rendall forced a turnover on the fore check and tapped a loose puck past the surprised Kitchener goalie. The Wolves went ahead by 3 after Aaron Steingart made a nice pass to send Zettler in on a partial break. Reese Stanley drove to the net and banged home Zettler's rebound. Again on the PK, Matt Buck tipped the puck past the Kitchener defensemen at the Wolves blue line for a breakaway. Buck, despite being harassed by a Kitchener defenseman, got off a great shot that eluded the Kitchener goalie to put the Wolves ahead 4-0. Rendall then put the Wolves ahead by 5 as he was sent in all alone after an exceptional pass by Steingart. Rendall faked the goalie, deked left and put the puck in the open net. Zettler scored the final Wolves goal with a wicked top shelf wrist shot with assists going to Stanley and Stephen Cresswell. The Wolves let their foot of the gas in the final period but Ryan DeWolfe stood tall, making a number of outstanding saves to preserve the shutout win. A couple of momentous notes from today's game: Steiner was assessed his FIRST minor hockey penalty EVER! The Hagen's Happy Horn suffered an unfortunate accident and was only blowing hot air for the last half of the game. Tracey has assured us the Timber Wolves lucky horn will be fixed and ready to go against Cambridge on Saturday!

Rendall then put the Wolves ahead by 5 as he was sent in all alone after an exceptional pass by Steingart. Rendall faked the goalie, deked left and put the puck in the open net. Zettler scored the final Wolves goal with a wicked top shelf wrist shot with assists going to Stanley and Stephen Cresswell. The Wolves let their foot of the gas in the final period but Ryan DeWolfe stood tall, making a number of outstanding saves to preserve the shutout win. A couple of momentous notes from today's game: Steiner was assessed his FIRST minor hockey penalty EVER! The Hagen's Happy Horn suffered an unfortunate accident and was only blowing hot air for the last half of the game. Tracey has assured us the Timber Wolves lucky horn will be fixed and ready to go against Cambridge on Saturday! Earplugs required next game!

PLAYER OF THE GAME

The Timber Wolves #33 jersey is worn by Ryan DeWolfe, also known as "De Wall"! Ryan was at his best on Sunday, turning away shot after shot from the Kitchener Rangers and was a wall in the third period, making some mesmerizing saves to earn a well deserved shut out and the "Battle Bucket"! Ryan is a fan of the San Jose Sharks and wasn't afraid to be the lone Wolf cheering the Sharks on at The Joe in Motown! Ryan is a grade 5 student at Millen Woods Public School where he excels at math. When Ryan isn't between the pipes, he likes to ski and hang out with his friends and play video games. His summer sport is baseball, where he is an awesome catcher. Ryan loves ancient Greek and Roman history, and often tests his parents knowledge of Ancient Greek Gods at the dinner table while downing his favourite meal of Alfredo pasta with apple juice! Outstanding effort today Ryan!

