

Wolf Black Attack

WOLVES ON ROLL LEADING UP TO CHRISTMAS BREAK

The Black Attack took to home ice on Saturday for a game with the London Nationals. The Wolves started out strong, taking a 1-0 lead after Aidan Brady crashed the net and banged home a Will Maxwell rebound. Second assist going to Matt Buck, who worked hard in the corner to get the puck into the slot. After London tied the game, the Wolves pulled ahead in the second when Connor Olsen fed the puck back to the blue line and Cole Schirmmacher ripped a bullet toward the London goal. The rebound went straight to Brady who tucked it in the back of the net. Brady got his hat trick when he rifled a shot into the goal after receiving a nice pass from Lukas Marschuetz at the blueline. The Wolves were down 2 players due to illness and it seemed to take a toll as London came back in the last 9 minutes of the third to tie the game at 3-3.

The Wolves travelled to London on Sunday for a game against Oakridge. Both teams came out hard but the Black Attack got on the board first when Will Maxwell found the loose puck at the side of the net and tucked it home. Assists went to Aidan Brady and Matthew Buck. The Wolves second goal saw Brady find the mesh after some hard work by Maxwell and Buck to feed him the puck. David Parker put the Wolves up by 3 when he fought off the Oakridge D in front of the net to fire home a loose puck. Assists went to Cole Schirmmacher and Owen Fenton. The Black Attack netted 2 more in the third when Connor Olsen found the back of the net on a nice feed from Dawson Fielding. Fenton then scored an unassisted goal after making a nice move on the Oakridge goalie. Oakridge managed to sneak one past our D and Wally late in the game, resulting in a Wolves 5-1 victory.

Player profile: Connor Olsen

When you want grit, determination and an eye for the net, look no farther than #27 for the Black and Gold Connor Olsen. Connor's work along the boards and crashing the front of the net is similar to his NHL hero, Alexander Ovechkin. Connor's tenacity was on display against London on Saturday and Sunday. It was clear he was frustrating the white, blue and red players with his hard work and resolve to get that puck to the front of the net. Connor credits a full plate of his favourite food Lasagna with Strawberries and whip cream for dessert as keys to his strength and work ethic.

Connor is a grade 6 student at St. Matthew's PS where he excels at science. When he isn't playing hockey, Connor loves to spend time at the cottage waterskiing. He also loves to play volleyball and rumour has it he has one awesome SPIKE! Connor's favourite group is Wiz Khalifa and although his favourite song is Mercy, it's only the opposition we hear yelling "mercy" during Connor's shifts. Great work Connor!
