

Wolf Black Attack

Wolves lose a tough one but come back with a win!

The Black Attack had a road weekend, starting off Saturday night against the London Bandits. The squad was short 2 players, and Aaron Jeffrey moved up from his D position to the wing on a line with Colton Tucker and Dawson Fielding. The Wolves started off on their heels, allowing a breakaway in the first minute and an early 1-0 lead for the Bandits. The Wolves forwards had a hard time gaining any momentum, but the D were strong clearing the front of the net and limiting the Bandits scoring chances. The second period saw the Wolves come alive, firing 15 shots against the Bandit goalie and were rewarded when Will Maxwell ripped a bad angle shot into far side of the net from the bottom of the face-off circle. Aidan Brady fed the puck to Maxwell after Stephen Cresswell made a nice play at the blue line to keep the puck in the offensive zone. Unfortunately for the Wolves, the 3rd period would be a different story as they took 6 straight penalties and spent most of the 3rd period in the box. The Bandits were able to score a power play goal midway through the 3rd for a 2-1 win.

It was a quick turnaround for the Black Attack with a game in St. Thomas early Sunday afternoon. The Wolves came out of the gate ready to play this time and after an even 1st period, the Wolves took it to St. Thomas in the second and third periods. Colton Tucker got the Wolves on the board in the second when he blasted a shot past the Stars keeper after getting a nice pass from Jeffrey in the slot. Dawson Fielding had the second assist, working hard in the corner for puck possession. This line provided more offense in the 3rd with a relentless fore check by Jeffrey and Fielding that led to the Stars defensemen mis-firing the puck right to Tucker, who banged the puck home on the short side for his second of the game. Spencer Bartels was solid in goal and the D played tight in front of him to keep the egg on the board and a 2-0 win.

Player profile: Colton Tucker

Colton Tucker proudly wears #10 for the Black and Gold. Colton, AKA tuktuk to his teammates was on fire in St. Thomas, notching 2 goals while dishing out numerous clean body checks, just like his favourite player, Alexander Ovechkin of the Washington Capitals. Tuktuk's speed and hard fore check often leaves opposition D stunned as he steals the puck and sets up his line mates. Although Tuktuk's favourite video game is Call of Duty 2, his Call of Duty is consistent hard work and stellar play for the Black Attack.

Colton is a grade 6 student at Wellesley Public School and his favourite subject is gym. When Colton's not playing hockey, he prefers to soak up his winter Vitamin D in Mexico and in the summer play soccer. His favourite pre-game meal is pasta followed up with a huge piece of cheese cake – Colton is convinced cheese cake is the key to his clean body checks! Awesome games this weekend Colton!
